ORIENTATIONResource Fair

College is expensive come meet your financial gurus to understand your college costs, loans, make a budget, plan your housing, and how to afford study abroad. Join us at Orientation for more information on how to gain financial stability and to learn about what the SMMC can do for you!

Participate in our Coin a Guess Game to win a SMMC Swag Bag during your orientation.

College Success Session • Final Money Destination - Financial Success!

Avoid being derailed by common money mistakes most freshmen make their first year at college. This session provides practical advice on how to make sure you understand the real costs of college. You will walk away knowing how to make your money last and get the most out of your financial aid refund.

Parent Orientation Breakout • The Real Cost of College

As your sons or daughters prepare for their freshman year on campus, they can easily become overwhelmed with new financial obligations and expectations. This workshop, sponsored by the UNT Student Money Management Center, helps parents understand the real costs of college during their first year and money-saving ways to help make the most of their funds.
