Welcome from the Director

Fraternal and Sorority life have had a presence at the University of North Texas since 1952. The community has been a viable and integral part of the student experience with four councils consisting of more than 35 fraternities and sororities. This unique experience offers an impactful and long-lasting connection to the institution.

Membership in a fraternity or sorority can be one of the most significant experiences for a college student. The value of this experience for students who choose to participate is the melding of almost every segment of the campus community into one cohesive program. Fraternities and sororities promote the experience of self-governance, leadership development, academic achievement, community service, social opportunities, and friendship.

The purpose of this guide is to supply you with the information necessary to better understand our community. UNT has a diverse fraternity and sorority life experience and serving the needs of our students requires us all and together, we have the shared goal of developing unity and excitement for all that wear the Green and White.

I encourage you to explore the opportunities for involvement within our community to see where you can find your fraternal or sororal home. The staff of the Center for Fraternity and Sorority Life stand at the ready to serve your needs to the best of our ability.

Go Mean Green!!!

Mission Statement

Our Mission

The mission of the Center for Fraternity and Sorority Life at the University of North Texas is to enhance student development through membership in CFSL organizations. Students are encouraged to emphasize academic excellence, philanthropic participation, personal development, and social development. We strive to create a unified campus through positive relations with the administration, faculty, and all CFSL and non-CFSL student organizations. Through these endeavors, the Center for Fraternity and Sorority Life strives to complement the mission of the University of North Texas.

The Center

The Center for Fraternity and Sorority Life is a first in the nation, 6,000-square-foot stand-alone facility and is one of the first of its kind in the country. Opened in the spring of 2014, the center furnishes a place for fraternity and sorority chapters that are not housed to meet and work. It also gives alumni a welcoming site to visit and offers space for UNT organizations to reserve for meetings.

The $2.6 million facility features of the center include a Chapter Room, a 125-seat space with four pull-down projector screens available to any UNT organization or individual to reserve; the Council Room, a designated workspace with desks, computers and Internet access for students who serve on the governing bodies of the fraternities and sororities; as well as a smaller meeting room, workroom, kitchen and fraternity and sorority life staff offices.

The Four Pillars

Leadership

The fraternity and sorority community is committed to providing its members with vast opportunities for leadership. Each member is encouraged to actively participate in chapter and campus-wide leadership roles. Fraternity and sorority members also develop leadership skills through conventions, conferences, and retreats.

Academics

The fraternity and sorority community strives for excellence in scholarship. All chapters at UNT maintain GPA requirements for both membership and to fill leadership roles. Many chapters earn higher GPAs than their non-affiliated peers. Chapters implement study hours and offer scholarships for academic performance. CFSL will also work to support scholastic achievement.

Service and Philanthropy

Community service and philanthropy are important components of the fraternity and sorority experience. Community service includes the giving of our time and abilities to provide individuals or organizations with hands-on support. Philanthropy involves the raising of resources to assist with the mission of a charitable organization.

Sisterhood/Brotherhood

The bonds forged through the shared fraternity and sorority experience are ones that members cherish for a lifetime. It is a great way to find community at UNT and enhances the student experience. Brotherhood and sisterhood are bonds of unity and friendship unique to the fraternity and sorority experience and it will last long beyond your time on campus.

NATIONAL PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The stated purpose and mission of the NPHC nationally upon its founding in 1930 was "Unanimity of thought and action as far as possible in the conduct of Greek letter collegiate fraternities and sororities, and to consider problems of mutual interest to its member organizations."

The UNT chapter of the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) was chartered in 1995. Since that time, the council has been a strong, positive force on the UNT campus. NPHC promotes interaction through forums, meetings and other mediums for the exchange of information, and engages in cooperative programming and initiatives important to the African-American community through various activities and functions. While these organizations are historically African-American, they are open to men and women of all races.

Current NPHC members are involved in activities such as NT40, UNT Athletics, NAACP, SGA, and a host of professional and honorary organizations. Finding a balance between academics and social activities is important in your college life, and involvement in both areas will provide you with a well-rounded college experience.

Membership in an NPHC organization is selective and is a life-long commitment that continues long after your collegiate career. NPHC has graduate/alumni chapters nationwide and current undergraduate members are expected to affiliate with upon graduating. Graduate/Alumni chapters can be especially beneficial when relocating or changing careers

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH TEXAS

NATIONAL PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

Multicultural Greek Council (MGC)

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH TEXAS

The Multicultural Greek Council (MGC) is the umbrella organization to the 12 recognized historically Multicultural focused fraternities and sororities at UNT. Though membership in this council is not restricted to students of Multicultural heritage, MGC serves as a multifaceted organization whose purposes include representing Multicultural interest to the University and community, managing and assisting in the expansion of future Multicultural Greek organizations, promotion of the concept of self-governance among fraternities and sororities, unification of the Multicultural Greek groups, sponsoring of large scale community service projects, and planning various activities throughout the year with the other Greek umbrella organizations.

Membership in an MGC organization is a life-long commitment. Members of MGC organizations remain active as alumni members and participate in many events nationwide.

The Multicultural Greek Council was founded with great significance placed on giving back to the community. The members of the UNT campus are no different. They participate in many service and fund-raising endeavors such as Habitat for Humanity, SPAN, Race for the Cure, American Red Cross, and Youth and Family Services.

Interfraternity Council (IFC)

The Interfraternity Council, or IFC, is the governing body for 12 of our fraternities at the University of North Texas. This council has 9 executive officers, which are elected by the general voting body each year. The purpose of the council is to not only promote fellowship within the fraternity and sorority community, but also to set standards and governing rules for members of our chapters to abide by. The philosophy behind IFC is, in order for us to hold our fraternity and sorority community to its highest standard, we must hold each other to these same standards.

IFC fraternities sponsor community service projects such as Habitat for Humanity, Challenge for Children and the Make-A-Wish Foundation. We take pride in our high scholastic achievements and constantly remind our members that academic excellence comes before anything else. We encourage everyone to check out and visit each of our IFC fraternities and set a course towards academic and personal success.

College Panhellenic Council (CPC)

The College Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the eight National Panhellenic Conference affiliated sororities at the University of North Texas. Panhellenic is an organization established to foster interfraternal relationships, to help collegiate chapters of the National Panhellenic Conference member groups, and to assist in maintaining the highest scholastic and social standards. The council enables the sororities to work together more effectively on campus.

The individual organizations are dedicated to personal development, academic achievement, leadership growth, and service to the campus and community. Activities may include community service projects, educational programs, leadership training, study halls, sisterhood retreats, intramural sports and fraternity mixers. Above all, sororities foster close friendships that will last through college and beyond. Panhellenic meets weekly to discuss the current issues facing the Greek Community, plan upcoming events, and serve as a link between UNT administration and individual organizations.

Frequently Asked Questions

What does Fraternity and Sorority Life have to offer University of North Texas students?

The fraternity and sorority community at the University of North Texas is comprised of more than 39(inter)nationally affiliated fraternity and sorority organizations. Many students find that joining a fraternity or sorority provides them a home away from home and a foundation upon which to build a new and exciting future. In addition, the University of North Texas fraternity and sorority community opens many doors by providing leadership, academic, service, social and interpersonal opportunities. The decision to join a fraternity or sorority is a lifelong commitment with an organization that stands for the best things college has to offer.

How does a student become involved with Fraternity and Sorority Life at UNT?

Each semester, the four governing councils of all organizations host a number of organized "Recruitment" events – opportunities for non-affiliated students to become acquainted with the fraternity and sorority community. During recruitment, non-affiliated students have the opportunity to visit all fraternities and sororities to meet the members and decide which, if any, of the chapters best suit their needs. The Recruitment process is one of mutual selection in which fraternity and sorority members invite individuals to be a part of their organizations, and likewise, potential members select the chapters that are best suited for them. Some recruitment processes are very casual, while others are more formal in structure. Even if students are unsure about joining the fraternity and sorority community, recruitment offers a great opportunity to meet new people!

Why should I join a fraternity or sorority at UNT?

Becoming a member of the fraternity and sorority community will provide you with a number of experiences that will help you prepare for not only a career, but also for life. These advantages include developing leadership skills by chairing a committee or assuming an executive board position; succeeding academically with the help of organized study hours; increasing awareness and knowledge of a variety of topics such as alcohol awareness, risk management, multiculturalism, and healthy behaviors; and developing enduring friendships and memories that last long after graduation.

Will fraternity and sorority Life assist students as they begin their careers?

One of the tremendous assets of affiliation with a Greek-lettered organization is the nationwide network of alumni/ae members of the organization. As a student prepares for entry into the career world, alumni/ae members can assist in job placement through their knowledge of where jobs are and who is hiring. In addition, the fraternity and sorority experience will assist students in developing transferable skills that will be needed in the career world, such as management, leadership development, communications, and more!

What kinds of costs are involved in joining a fraternity or sorority?

Joining a fraternity or a sorority does have a financial commitment. The chapters are self-supporting through dues paid by their members. When students join a fraternity/sorority, they also agree to pay dues and fees while in school to maintain membership. Although chapters may make accommodations for special needs, students should discuss the financial obligations with their parents or guardians before deciding to join.

Each chapter has different dues for membership that cover such things as chapter and national dues, dues to the governing council, your membership badge, social activities, resources, and other miscellaneous costs. Many chapters also offer payment plan options for those interested.

What is the time commitment involved in belonging to a Greek-lettered organizations?

While there are certain attendance requirements, a well-balanced schedule is encouraged for all members. Through involvement with the chapter, students will learn to better manage their time by balancing academics, work, and other commitments. Academic commitments are the first priority and many members hold student jobs as well. fraternities and sororities are conscientious of the full schedules that most students have and offer flexibility as much as possible. Students find that being active in a fraternity or sorority is well worth the time they put into it.
