

APPENDIX B

Post-Activity Reflection Questions

Reflection is a key component of the learning process. As such, the Diversity Council has developed the following reflection questions we hope you will answer for yourself after each activity. We encourage staff to talk through discussions questions with a peer or supervisor.

1. In a few sentences, what is something new that you learned?
2. In a few sentences, what is something that you are still thinking about/trying to understand?
3. What can you apply at work, in your relationships with colleagues, and in your personal life?
