Homecoming was a SUCCESS!

We would like to give a big congratulations to the Parent Association members that put together a great Homecoming parade float! The Parent Association float won the McConnell Spirit Award for Overall Best Department Parade Float!

Below are some pictures from the Homecoming fun!

Thank you to the Parent Association members that were able to help put the float together and thank you to Aleece Ellison for coordinating the decorating event.

Sincerely,

Carter & Carl

Campus Inclusion Climate Survey is LIVE!

Students, check your UNT email and complete the survey for a chance to win a 2018 Honda Civic LX

Visit edo.unt.edu/climatesurvey

October 29 - November 16

Your voice matters.
#IncludeMeUNT

Remind your students to take the survey to have a chance at winning a NEW CAR (taxes and fees included) and many more prizes!!!

The purpose of the survey is to identify strengths and opportunities related to diversity, equity and inclusion to all faculty, staff, students and administrators. For more information, click here.
Stressed Student?

For students, November can be a stressful time as finals are approaching and deadlines become closer together. Students can also begin to feel that college is not living up to their expectations.

Below are some possible self-help resources to recommend for your student if they are feeling overwhelmed or stressed:

- Stick to a routine. Get dressed, go to class, students should keep a normal daily structure.
- Eat healthy food regularly. Students often skip meals. This robs them of the energy they need to cope.
- Talk to you (the parent) or supportive people. Students can isolate themselves when stressed. This makes things worse.
- Get some sleep. Encourage your student to go to bed and get up at the same time and sleep 7-9 hours.
- Physical activity. Students often spend free time in their rooms. Encourage them to go to the rec or walk around campus.
- Avoid using alcohol or drugs (including caffeine) as a way to "self-medicate". Students often turn to alcohol or drugs to cope with stress.
- Find humor and distractions. Watching a funny show or hanging out with people that make your student laugh is a great way to reduce stress.

We recommend communicating with your students about some of these strategies and encourage them to seek help from the Counseling and Testing Center should their stress persist. For questions on resources, please email us at parents@unt.edu
